Prospects on Pithele.
[From the Pitteburgh Commercial, sept. 26]
The intelligence from Pithole, for the past week, is of a highly encouraging na-ture to oil operators generally. A disaster occurred at well No. 106, Holmden Parm, a few days since, caused by the oil flowing therefrom running down to an engine house of a well below and there taking house of a well below and there taking fire. The fire was extinguished, and the weil is now yielding about seventy five barrels per day. It seems there are some dry holes about Pithole, as well as elsewhere, as her latery been demonstrated. Well No. 54, at Pithole, has exhibited the same eccentricities as the Coquette well was ismous for, but so far they have been attended by an increased flow, until she is now rated at eighteen hundred barrels per day. Dr. James Fuller, of Philisdelphia, has purchased one-haif of the working interest in one well on the Morey farm, Pithole creek, for $16,000. Well No. 47 on the Holmden farm, started flowing on Monday last, and is now Liberal terms will be made with a man possessing the largest flowing well on Pithole. The first day its yield was fifteen hundred barrels, and it is steadily increasing. Some others on the Morey Farm, are now pumping in large quantities, and the yield on the creek is becoming larger every day. Notwithstanding this increased yield, the prices on the creek remain firm at $3 per barrel, with the prospect of an advance.

A little speck of war has appeared in Morgan county, Kentucky. A man named Williams, with about fifty followers, has arrested the United States Collector of Internal Revenue, and compelled him to desist from his business. He has also arrested every man who has brought a suit against any rebel, and compelled them to withdraw them. A company of the United States forces, attempted, without success, to drive this gang from the county, More troops have gone to the scene of action. Gen. Brisbin hopes to capture the

MEADVILLE ITEMS.

Special Correspondence of Gloveland Leader Meanville, Pa., Sept. 26, 1865. Our lively town will have a succession of un wonted events during the precent week The English party of tourists are expected sere to-morrow, on their return from the succession of sight-seeing, dining and speech-making which they have enjoyed endured for the past three weeks. While it has been doubtless pleasant and certainly profitable for them to have taken their exensive tour through the western cities, one. can hardly think without a shudder and a qualm of indigestion of the procession of The Cholera Increasing highly sessoned and variously cooked edibles which has been murching down their sching throats, for you and I have sat down nore than once to a corporation dinner, or a St. George's anniversary supper, and glowed with inward satisfaction as we looked on the bill of good things set forth Projects for the Atlantic English cookery, and we have thought "Rejoice, oh my soul, and be marry at the fatness of this land." But you and I have also experienced that inevitable to-morrow norming, which brought headache and earthurn and sods-water, and we have then vowed that the next time we were similarly invited, we would religiously stay away ourselves and "send a hand" to fill our places, as farmers do at a raising or s chopping bee. Think then of the sufferings of these poor victims, who must each day eat at least one "collation" and one municipal dinner, and must keep up a torch-light procession of good, bad and in different champagne, while the procession will be from one to three hours in passing a given point, with occasional breaks for music, and speeches. Whatever the value, to themselves or to the country, of the results of this trip (and every thinking man must see what great influence it may have Probably portion of the party will venture upon an exploration of the Oil Regions, in spite of the present frightful condition of the roads. Associated Press Report.

From Alabama. Naw Yoak, September 26.
The Times' special, dated Montgomery, Ala, Sept. 25, says: There has been great excitement in the convention to day, and a spirited debate took place between the straight out Union men on the one side and the conservative and secession element on the other, on the subject of secession, occasioned by the msjority and minority reports. The msjority report declared the so called ordinance of secession to have been wholly unauthorized, and is null and void. The minority report, which de-fended secession, was laid on the table by a vote of 68 to 26. The minority party then amended their report by calling the act of secession extra constitutional, which act of secession extra constitutions!, which was carried by a vote of 58 to 36. The majority report party subsequently viewed this as springing a new mine upon them by the minority, and an exciting discussion followed, when the amendment was withdrawn. The minority party then offered an amendment declaring the ordinance of an amendment declaring the ordinance of secession unconstitutional, which was voted down by 58 to 34. The majority report as originally reported was then adopted by a unanimous vote, and the ordinance of cession was declared null and void. The steamer Kip Van Winkle, when opposite the ferry slip this morning, struck, it is supposed, a quantity of iron reported to have been sunk, and stove a hole in her hull. She succeeded in reaching her dock,

On invitation of Lord Fermoy, the Lord Lieutenant of the county of Cork, a meeting of more than 150 magistrates took place recently in Cork to consider the security of the public peace, as it was men aced by the Fenian movement. The proceedings were private, but the Cork Examiner, away they resulted in the upsain aminer says they resulted in the unani-mous adoption of a memorial to the gov-ernment praying for an immediate increase of the police and military force of the country. The existence of secret organisations dangerous to the public was generally admitted, and it was supposed that the adoption of the proposed step would be sufficient to maintain public order

On Friday evening, the 15th, in Dublin a large force of police proceeded from the Castle to Parliament street, where they divided into two bodies, one on either side of the street. Some detectives then knock-ed at the door of the paper called the Irish People, an alleged Fenian organ, but were refused admission. The police then broke open the door, took possession of the prem-ises, and secured twelve or fourteen prisoners, said to be compositors, and conveyed them to the Usatle. There is no informa tion as to the cause of the seizure, but there are rumors of concealed arms, and docu ments with the names of the leaders, but the reports are not generally credited. The police kept the street clear and there was no disturbance. The Irish People was a weekly paper and about to be published
